

MyCarunity

Community. Transparency. Security.

MyCarcommunity | Official Brand of Europäische Auktionsgesellschaft mbH - Pfälzer Ufer 4, 06108 Halle (Saale), Germany - Amtsgericht Stendal HRB 29869 - USt-ID: DE343883946

Full stack developer internship with option for full-time employment

Location: Germany (internship may be remote)

Minimum duration: 3 months

As a full stack developer at MyCarcommunity, you will be part of a fast-growing young startup with an exciting team of car enthusiasts from all over Europe. We are a diverse group of different ages, with everyone bringing a wide range of professional experience to the table. We all share a strong enthusiasm for cars and together we want to make the market for collector and enthusiast vehicles more transparent and safer. Your task will be to work on a re-launch of our front end and back end by transferring our current architecture from angular/typescript to a content management system and customize the infrastructure according to our business demands. If the project runs successfully and there is a great personal fit, we will offer a full-time employment opportunity in Germany.

Where your expertise is needed:

- Understand the current code written in python and the architecture based on angular
- Decide for one CMS and develop the front end and back end accordingly
- Customize and develop new plug ins for the CMS based on existing code on our auction software
- Customize the database according to our internal work processes and daily business

What we are looking for:

- Sound knowledge of python, typescript, angular
- Strong knowledge and experience with CMS (e.g., WordPress, drupal, Joomla)
- Strong knowledge of php, javascript, typescript
- Strong experience in programming CMS plug ins
- Outstanding motivation to join a European startup that radically transforms the car collector's industry
- Ability to work under pressure and in a high-performance environment
- Sound communication skills in English
- Being a car enthusiast would be a plus but is not a must

What we offer you:

- Unique insights and responsibility in web development under the guidance of experienced colleagues

- A flexible workplace where your talents are brought to the fore, and we work together as a team to advance your skills
- Positive and constructive working environment with a special focus on open communication, flat hierarchies and continuous feedback
- Work in an innovative and fast-growing startup with an interdisciplinary team that focuses on mutual respect
- Be part of a young startup where your activities have a decisive impact and are used by real users
- Attractive fixed salary with above-average expansion opportunities through social bonuses
- Option for a very attractive permanent position in Germany

About MyCarmunity:

We are a car forum & auction house in one. All collector's and enthusiast's cars are presented honestly and transparently. Anyone can ask questions publicly and, if interested, arrange a viewing appointment directly. User registration is free & non-binding.

<https://mycarmunity.com/>